

Microsoft Office® 2010 Sneak Peek

Join us as we present an overview of new features and implementation requirements on Microsoft's new version of Microsoft Office.

September 21, 2010
8am-10am

Presented By:

Melanie Gass, President of CenterPoint Solution

Melanie has been an expert in Microsoft products since 1998, and has helped thousands of employees worldwide learn how to use the computer effectively in their workday. She works with Fortune 100 companies and has trained some of the most powerful people in the world today.

Melanie is also an author of over ten Microsoft product reference guides, and creates reference materials for Microsoft's clients, her own clients, and the general public.

Evan Stein, President of CMIT Solutions of Manhattan, Grand Central

Evan has been providing computer support and technical advice and strategy to small businesses for 10 years. He works with companies to ensure they are investing their resources into the proper technology choices and getting the best return they can on that investment.

He is that author of several articles and the editor of "I JUST Want My Computers to Work: A Business Owner's Guide to Technology Peace of Mind".

Location: 1290 Avenue of Americas, New York City

Cost: Free

RSVP Required: mgass@centerpointsolution.com or call 646-205-3279

A 30-minute networking period is included in this event. Be sure to bring business cards!